Dear Dr. Zulmardi,

Thank you for providing the information.

1. While checking your manuscript, we have found that the data availability statement is missing. Hindawi encourages all authors to share the data underlying the findings of their manuscripts. Data sharing allows researchers to verify the results of an article, replicate the analysis, and conduct secondary analyses. Accordingly, please email me a "Data Availability" statement for the data used in your manuscript. This statement should describe how readers can access
